Be safe in your own home

Mul-T-Lock is well aware of the issues surrounding lock cylinder snapping and general attack and is at the forefront of efforts to solve these problems.

Currently, the best home protection is achieved by choosing locks, cylinders and door hardware licenced and approved by BSi Kitemark and by association, the Secured by Design crime reduction initiative created by the Association of Chief Police Officers.

Break Secure XP is the latest retrofit cylinder edition to Mul-T-Lock UK's high security range specifically designed for PVCu doors which on its own has achieved the very highest security standards.

Mul-T-Lock believes that advanced technology, combined with high quality manufacturing, is the only way to win the 'arms race' with burglars and housebreakers.

Choose Break Secure XP

Break Secure XP is purposely designed so that the front of the cylinder deliberately snaps under attack, leaving the main portion of the cylinder intact and fully functioning.

Break Secure XP also has patent protected technology to make sure your home is as safe as possible. Even if a house is attacked, Break Secure XP will remain functioning and offer security so that you are still able to access and protect your home.

Stay Secure

Mul-T-Lock works closely with police authorities across the UK and industry bodies to deliver solutions that address public and industry concerns. A new standard called TS007 provides a way to rate cylinders and is Insurance approved and recognized by the police as a way to identify high security solutions.

The standard is characterised by a star rating system, where the cylinder and door furniture must accumulate three star to achieve the minimum security requirements for a door. The cylinder can achieve three stars alone if it passes the test. Break Secure XP is the number one anti-snap cylinder with 3* TS007 Kitemark Accreditation suitable for any PVCu door – front door, porch door, conservatory door or rear door.

Mul-T-Lock would encourage homeowners to replace their locks to maintain the most up to date levels of home security.

Bump resistant

Many cylinders can be easily 'bumped' - inserting and tapping an illegal key to release the cam and open the door. Break Secure XP is proven to resist this.

Interlocking cam

The cams are designed to interlock, providing a greater degree of strength.

Break Secure

The front section of the cylinder is designed to snap off when forced, leaving the cylinder in place and the door secure.

Grip resistant

Break Secure XP's Grip Resistant device prevents an intruder wrenching the lock with grips.

Crumple zone

The cylinder will collapse to a predefined pattern when under attack, leaving the core mechanism intact.

Anti-drill

Break Secure XP is engineered using high strength materials and robust construction to withstand prolonged drilling.
